Kate Dickel, the real name of the unfor-tunate girl, was a daughter of Win. For-sythe, residing at No. 8 17th street. About two years ago she was married to a young German named Philip Dickel, who resides jin East Wheeling. The couple lived to-gether but a few weeks, when they separ-ated, and have been living apart since. Dickel, we understand, recently applied for a divorce, and the case is now pending in the courts. John Herron, a driver in the employ of Simon Baer & Sons, has been paying her a good deal of attention for a month past, and it appears that it was principally on his account that she left her home. Justice Wm. Phillips, having been noti-fied of the girl's death, impaneled the fol-

The evidence of Dr. G. W. Kelley, the attending physician, who was next called, was in substance as follows: While at the Postoffice on Monday evening, between and 5 o'clock, he was accosted by Herron, who asked him to call on a patient at the Rine House, who was very sick. Herron assured him that he would see that the bill was paid. The Doctor went to the Rine House, where he saw the girl, who told him that her name was Minnie Black. She was in a very bad condition, suffering from the effects of arsenic poison. The Doctor asked her why she had taken the poison, and she at first declined to answer. Upon being told that she was in a critical condition, however, she confessed that she had taken a large dose of arsenic, but asked the Doctor nation tell and the poison had to the large of a resenic, but asked the Doctor nation had requested him to come and see her. Witness then asked the rif she would not like to get well, and she replied that she would. She said that she had taken the poison at Logan, List & Co's. drug store, from one of the clerks, and swallowed it on Sunday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock. When asked why she had allowed herself to suffer for twenty-four thours without calling in a physician, she said that she had taken the sa

AN INSULT TO COUNCIL.

Rr. Reeves—Mr. President: There are times in the the life of every man when the performance of duty becomes a most painful service; and I confess to you, sir, and members of Council present, that in no time in my life have ever I engaged in the discussion of a question with more sincere regret than I have when this subject of the behaviour or conduct of the Collector of Water Rents has been spoken of in this Council. name is new to the public, both the principals are widely and favorably known in the dry goods trade. Mr. Brues, during his recent visit to the East, selected a new and choice stock of fashionable fail and winter goods, in which, knowing his fine taste and excellent judgment, it is but natural that the ladies should take a deep interest. The storerooms will be crowded on Friday afternoon and evening.
